

MIQUEL GÓMEZ CORRAL

Junior AI Automation Engineer

Computer engineer specialized in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning. During my Bachelor's and Master's in AI (UPV), I have worked on optimization, machine learning, computer vision, and language models (LLMs), developing projects ranging from data pipelines and digital imaging to agents and RAG systems.

I have applied this knowledge in several companies in the sector, automating processes and integrating AI solutions that deliver real value, proving the strength of my education.

Currently, I seek to continue growing as an engineer in the AI and Machine Learning sector, where I can contribute and learn to the fullest.

EXPERIENCE

Valencia, Spain Dec 2025 – Present	AI Automation Engineer Vidext I returned as an expert in automation and artificial intelligence, developing pipelines and processes that allow the company to automate tasks and processes, saving time and money.
